I have been using Theralac probiotic for almost a year. I learned of it at the American Association of Naturopathic Physicians convention in Portland Oregon in 2003. I started using Theralac for my cancer patients to help build their intestinal flora and improve their immune system after going through their chemotherapy and radiation treatments. I initially chose Theralac because:

1. It has the patented acid resistant technology that would allow more of the good bacteria through the stomach acid.
2. It has one of the largest amounts of bacteria per capsule with 20 billion cfu.
3. It has all human strains of bacteria.

As I used the product, I was able to realize all of the general benefits of a good probiotic. I saw decreased soft stool and constipation, less gas and bloating etc. The bonus was it is very cost effective. I would base load my patients with 1 capsule per day for two weeks, followed by 2 capsules per week. The first bottle of 30 capsules ends up lasting 9 weeks. After the first bottle the patient continues on a maintenance dose of 2 capsules per week, and each bottle lasts 15 weeks. At $40/bottle, this ended up being approximately $10.66/month to my patient and a tremendous savings. I pride myself in making sure my patients get the best product in the most cost effective form. I believe that Naturopathic physicians are the best trained to provide this service to their patients.

I have enjoyed working with Theralac, I trust its consistency and know that I am giving my patients a product that will perform the way I need it to at a cost effective price. I highly recommend this product for any cause of dysbiosis and general maintenance of intestinal flora.
